August 2022

The Pace of Grace

From the Rev. Rose Anne Lonsway:

From the Rector, July/August 2022

Happy Summer! I pray that it is going well for you and that yours is a little slower than mine. We had our sabbatical month in June here at Grace and now that August is upon us things are heating up – literally and figuratively.

First: I am going to do a class on Civil Discourse. I have talked about this for a while and now is the time. The Diocesan Council has been working on designing an abbreviated course on this subject and as a member of that Council, I volunteered us as a Beta site. You have heard me talk about how we need to be able to talk with one another when we don't agree, when we hear "those fightin' words". It is hoped that the information in this class will help us hear the words and talk about them with out the fight. Please plan to join me for 3-4 sessions to be held Wednesday evenings August 10, 17, 24 and 31 (if needed) at 6:00 p. m. The discussion will last about hour to an hour and a half. We will meet in-person; however, I will make zoom available for any who wish to attend and cannot meet in person. Please call the office to sign up or use the sign-up sheet on the table at the church entrance.

Second: We will be offering a course together with Church of the Epiphany called Sacred Ground. This course explores racial justice issues. It consists of eleven sessions which will be offered about once a month on Sundays after our 10:00 am service. It will be offered in-person and via zoom so that we can connect both churches in the class. The course consists of video's that you will watch on your own and readings that are provided. There are two books that are recommended to read as well. Grace will provide the books for anyone who wants to do the study but needs help obtaining the books. There is no other cost to take the course. The class will begin September 25. Please call the office to sign up or use the sign-up sheet on the table at the church entrance.

Lastly, did you know that August is National Make-a-Will month? Well, it is and if you google it, there is a plethora of resources available to assist you if you have not already carried out this task. Even the Book of Common Prayer talks to us about wills. Page 445 instructs us thus:

The Minister of the Congregation is directed to instruct the people, from time to time, about the duty and of Christian parents to make prudent provision for the well-being of their families, and of all persons to make wills, while they are in health, arranging for the disposal of their temporal goods, not neglecting, if they are able, to leave bequests for religious and charitable uses.

So, first, I encourage you to be sure that you not only have an up-to-date will, but that you also ensure you have end-of-life directives, including health care and financial powers of attorney and Advance Directives. The other thing I would encourage you to do is to give thought to what services you wish to have and give these instructions to your family and your Rector. I keep files of End-of-Life Directives in my desk so that there is help and support available to your loved ones at that difficult time. Your Rector is also available to be with your loved ones at funeral homes as planning is happening, again to lend support and to make your wishes known. There are forms available to assist you with designing a service and the BCP also has helpful information. Things to think about include where you want the service to be, what type of service – with or without communion, where you want to be laid to rest, any special hymns and scripture readings, people to read and or speak at the service, etc. Please see me for the forms and any help you might need in formulating your wants.

I do need to ask that your family know not to decide on a date and time for services with the funeral home without first talking to your Rector. This is true whether you want a service at the church or at the funeral home.

I know that we are all reluctant to think about these things, however preplanning will make a stressful time for your loved ones a little easier.

Well, I have presented you with a lot of information and things to think and pray about. I look forward to seeing you in one or both of the studies being offered, and if you so choose, helping with and safeguarding those instructions, whose use, God willing, are far, far in the future.

M. Rose Anne+

There are so many ways to use herbs in seasoning foods and beverages. Our garden contains basil, oregano, sage, mint, parsley, cilantro and stevia. Please share your recipes to help everyone learn how to enjoy our harvest. Our thanks to Chris Burke for getting our garden ready for planting, and to the many other people who have helped to make it happen. #### GREEN BEAN with BASIL, BALSAMIC, and PARMESAN

1 ½ lb trimmed green beans cut to 2"-3" long	Kosher salt
½ cup shredded red onion ( or shallots	2 Tbsp balsamic vinegar
4 Tbsp extra virgin olive oil	¾ cup finely chopped basil leaves
¾ cup finely grated parmesan cheese	ground black pepper

Soak the onions in a bowl of cold water. This will help take the edge off the onions. Let sit while you prepare the rest of the salad.

Bring a large pot of salted water to boil. Add the green beans to the water and blanch only about 2-3 minutes, until the beans are just barely cooked through, but still crisp.

While beans are cooking prepare a large bowl of ice water. Drain the beans, and place them into the ice water to stop the cooking.

Drain the beans and the red onions.

Place the green beans, red onion, and chopped basil in a large bowl. Sprinkle in the olive oil, toss to coat. Sprinkle in the balsamic and the parmesan cheese. Toss to combine. Season to taste with salt and pepper.

Chill until ready to serve.

*Balsamic vinaigrette can be used in place of the balsamic vinegar and olive oil.
